TOP NOTES

Aaron Dell made his first start since Jan. 7, stopping all but one of the 36 shots he faced to earn his sixth straight win. Until now, the netminder has never began a season with a win in each of his first six starts at either the NHL or AHL level.

He needs just one more win to match a career-best seven-game win streak he posted from March 20 to April 7 during the 2014-15 season.

Brandon Biro scored his seventh goal of the season early in the first period and later added an assist to extend his current point streak to five games. After tonight, he now has 22 points (7+15) over his last 20 games to move into sixth in scoring amongst all AHL rookies.

Michael Mersch has points in nine straight games after recording an assist on Rochester's second goal of the game. The Amerks captain has totaled nine points (3+6) over his current point streak, which is the fourth-longest active streak in the AHL.

He needs one more point to become just the fourth player this season to reach the 40-point mark.

Brett Murray recorded two points (1+1), both of which came in the first period. It marked his first goal since Nov. 24.

Ethan Prow moved into seventh in scoring amongst AHL defenseman after picking up an assist for the fourth straight game.

Tonight's win was Rochester's first over Charlotte since Dec. 6, 2019, snapping a five-game skid against the Checkers.
