TOP NOTES

Brett Murray scored for the second time in three games to push his point streak to six straight games. He's recorded nine points over that span and has totaled 17 points (9+8) over his last 18 games dating back to Feb. 2.

Ethan Prow also extended his point streak to three games with an assist. Dating back to Jan. 15, he's recorded 20 points (6+14) over a 24-game span and hasn't gone more than consecutive games without a point since then.

With 35 points on the season, he's fourth in scoring amongst all AHL defensemen and is now six assists away from matching his career-high of 32 he set during the 2019-20 season.

Nick Pastujov opened the scoring for Rochester early in the first period, giving him two points (1+1) in his last three games. His goal came on his only shot of the game.

Ukko-Pekka Luukkonen made 40 saves in the loss, marking his second straight game against the Crunch with 40 or more stops. He has three such games on the season, which includes a season and career-high 54-save effort against Syracuse on Feb. 25.

Matej Pekar snapped a 19-game scoring drought with an assist on Rochester's first goal of the game.

Ryan Scarfo has two assists in his last three games and three assists over his last six, marking his best offensive stretch of the season.
