TOP NOTES

Lukas Rousek's first-period power-play goal was his first since Nov. 9, snapping a 10-game goal-scoring drought. He now has three points (1+2) in his last five games.

By earning the primary assist on Rousek's fifth goal of the season, Jeremy Davies has four points (2+2) through the first four games of December, his best stretch since totaling seven points (4+3) over a season-long five-game point streak to open the month of March last season.

Brandon Biro recorded his team-leading sixth multi-point effort of the season with two assists to reclaim the team's scoring lead, giving him 17 points (5+12) in 16 games.

Dating back to last season, Biro has totaled 19 points (7+12) over his last 19 games and hasn't gone more than one game without a point over that span.

Linus Weissbach scored his second goal in four games, tying Brett Murray for the team lead. With nine goals on the year, he's seven away from matching the career-high of 16 he scored in 67 games last season.

With an assist on Rochester's second goal, Chase Priskie has two assists in his last three games.

Rousek's goal was the 14th scored on the man-advantage at home for the Amerks this season, tying for fifth-most in the league in that category. After tonight, Rochester has gone 14-for-46 on the power-play at home, good for a 30.4% conversion rate that is third-best in the league.
