TOP NOTES

With tonight's overtime loss, the Amerks have collected points in five straight and eight of their last 11 games, going 5-3-1-2 over that span.

Rochester also has points in five straight home games (3-0-1-1) dating back to its 2-0 win over Laval on March 15.

Jiri Kulich and Lukas Rousek factored in on both goals, with Kulich scoring his team-leading 22nd goal of the season. After tonight, he has 25 points (15+10) over his last 27 games dating back to Jan. 25, including back-to-back multi-point efforts against Cleveland.

Kulich's 22 goals are seventh-most amongst all AHL rookies this season.

Rousek, who returned to the Amerks lineup after making his NHL debut on Monday with the Buffalo Sabres, assisted on both Rochester goals to take over the team's scoring lead with 51 points (15+36) in 63 games.

He has three assists in his last two games and 12 points (4+8) over his last 10 games.

Brett Murray's first-period goal gives him four goals in his last four games. Murray has totaled 13 points (5+8) in 14 games during the month of March while never going more than two games without a point in that span.

Isak Rosen had a team-high six shots, marking the second time this month he had at least six shots in a game.

Ethan Prow reached the 30-assist mark for the second straight season.
