It's another Hockey Night in Rochester as the Amerks host the one and only visit from the Wilkes-Barre/Scranton Penguins this season at Blue Cross Arena. After beginning the season with 11 straight divisional games, tonight's matchup begins a stretch in which Rochester will face-off against Atlantic Division opponents in six of its next seven games. The two teams have split the season series in each of the last two years, but the Amerks have won each of the last four against the Penguins on home ice.

STAR PLAYERS

WILKES-BARRE/SCRANTON

The Amerks go up against the reigning AHL Goaltender of the Month in Sergei Murashov. The second-year pro made six starts in October and went 5-1-0 with a 1.68 goals-against average, a .935 save percentage and one shutout, helping the Penguins to their best start to a season in 15 years. He allowed just 10 goals on 154 shots and posted a 25-save shutout at Charlotte on Oct. 25 en route to winning AHL Player of the Week honors.

ROCHESTER

Tonight's game has special meaning to Amerks forward Jagger Joshua, who played 74 of his 109 career AHL games to date over parts of three seasons with the Penguins before a midseason trade landed him in Rochester this past January. Joshua, who's played all 11 games so far this season, entered the week with three points over his last six games, including goals in back-to-back appearances over that span.

Orthopaedics &
Physical Performance

When the Amerks set out to get tougher this offseason, they looked no further than Jagger Joshua, who the organization re-signed to a one-year AHL contract.

But that's not all the third-year pro can do, and he's shown that early in the year.

"I think my playing style sometimes leads to me getting misunderstood because I am so physical. I think some people get caught up in that. They think that's all I can do or all I produce."

And produce he did. Joshua posted points in three straight games from October 22-25, including his first career shorthanded goal.

"I always viewed my game as something you can't judge just by going off a stat sheet. I impact the game in other ways, but I do think when I'm playing my style and at the top of my game, offense becomes a byproduct of my physicality. My style of play can lead to points."

Joshua, 26, is a second-generation hockey player, with his mother Juliee having played the game for 40 years and counting. He is also the younger brother of Toronto Maple Leafs forward, Dakota Joshua.

"My mom goes to Florida every summer for their national championship. She's almost 60 now and has been playing for 40 years, so when we talk about hockey, she tends to know more than the average parent. That's the nice part. We can talk and she can know right away if I had a good or a bad game, but she's always supported my brother and I, and he and I talk every day. It's a really strong hockey family."

SCOTT HOWSON

PRESIDENT &
CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER
AMERICAN HOCKEY LEAGUE

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Fans,

It is my pleasure to welcome you to the historic 90th season of the American Hockey League.

Since we first dropped the puck in 1936, our league has grown to include 32 cities from coast to coast and a truly global community with fans cheering on our teams from around the world. And we remain proud of our commitment to being the top development league for nearly all of the players, coaches, executives, trainers, broadcasters and officials who you see throughout the National Hockey League today.

For nine decades, you have cheered on future superstars, Stanley Cup champions and Hockey Hall of Famers as they have come through the AHL. This season we reflect on our past while continuing our tradition of excellence, from the excitement of opening night to the pageantry of the AHL All-Star Classic in Rockford to the pure emotion of the Calder Cup Playoffs.

On behalf of all of our teams, thank you for your continuing support of the American Hockey League.

Sincerely,

Scott Howson
President & CEO | American Hockey League

► THE BEGINNINGS

Celebrating its 90th season in 2025-26, the American Hockey League is continuing a tradition of excellence that began in 1936 when the Canadian-American Hockey League joined with the International Hockey League to form what is today known as the AHL. Eight teams hit the ice that first season, representing Buffalo, Cleveland, New Haven, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Providence, Springfield and Syracuse.

Frank Calder, the National Hockey League's president at the time, was instrumental in the forming of this new league, and his name would be given to its championship trophy. The Abbotsford Canucks are the reigning Calder Cup champions after capturing their first title last spring.

From those roots, the American Hockey League has grown into a 32-team, coast-to-coast league that provides fans with exciting, high-level professional hockey while preparing thousands of players, coaches, officials, executives, trainers, broadcasters and more for careers in the NHL.

L. TO R.: AHL GRADUATES WILLIAM NYLANDER, IGOR SHESTERKIN, TAGE THOMPSON, DAVID PASTRNAK, CONNOR HELLEBUYCK

THE PLAYERS

In today's National Hockey League nearly 90 percent of the players are AHL alumni, including 2024-25 Vezina Trophy winner and NHL MVP Connor Hellebuyck and Art Ross Trophy recipient Nikita Kucherov. The 2025 Stanley Cup champion Florida Panthers were stocked with AHL graduates including former league scoring champion Carter Verhaeghe.

During the 2024-25 season, a total of 891 AHL alumni played in the National Hockey League. There were 330 players who skated in both leagues last year alone, and 245 former first- and second-round NHL draft picks developed their skills in the AHL last season, including Artyom Levshunov, David Reinbacher, Nate Danielson, Simon Nemec, Denton Mateychuk, Lian Bichsel, 2025 AHL All-Star Challenge MVP Kevin Korchinski, and 2024-25 AHL Top Prospects team members Dalibor Dvorsky, Konsta Helenius, Logan Mailloux, Scott Morrow and Bradly Nadeau.

THE LEGENDS

For nine decades, the American Hockey League has been home to some of the greatest players in the history of our sport. In fact, there are 136 honored members of the Hockey Hall of Fame who have been affiliated with the AHL during their careers.

All-time greats from Milt Schmidt and Gump Worsley to Roberto Luongo and Martin St. Louis came through the AHL ranks and now find themselves enshrined in Toronto, and the coveted Calder Cup is inscribed with the names of legendary AHL alumni like Johnny Bower, Larry Robinson, Gerry Cheevers, Andy Bathgate, Tim Horton, Al Arbour, Emile Francis, Patrick Roy, Doug Harvey and Billy Smith.

THE COACHES

At the start of the 2025-26 season, the National Hockey League featured 21 head coaches who were former AHL bench bosses, including Paul Maurice of the two-time defending Stanley Cup champion Florida Panthers and 2024-25 Jack Adams Award winner Spencer Carbery of the Washington Capitals.

Tampa Bay's Jon Cooper, Colorado's Jared Bednar, Edmonton's Kris Knoblauch, New Jersey's Sheldon Keefe, San Jose's Ryan Warsofsky and Winnipeg's Scott Arniel are also among the current NHL coaches who spent time in the American Hockey League before making the jump.
