TOP NOTES

The Amerks saw contributions from their ECHL affiliate in Jacksonville, with call-ups Riley Fiddler-Schultz, Christopher Brown, and Damien Giroux scoring three of the Amerks' four goals.

Dominick Mersch, younger brother of Amerks captain Michael Mersch, made his Rochester debut, assisting on Brown's first-period goal while drawing a fight against Utica's Daniil Misyul. The Mersch's became the seventh pair of brothers to skate in the same season for Rochester, dating back to the first duo of Barry and Brian Cullen from the 1956-57 season.

Brown's goal was his first in the AHL since January 25, 2022 when the forward was a member of the Hershey Bears.

Zach Metsa scored his first career regular season goal in the AHL during the opening minute of the third period. Metsa scored during the Calder Cup Playoffs with Rochester last year. The defenseman was listed as a forward in last week's lineup for the Amerks.

Isak Rosen earned the assist on Metsa's goal, giving the second-year pro points in nine of 11 games this season. Rosen is up to 13 points on the season (5+8) and is tied with fellow linemate Jiri Kulich (9+4) for the team lead in points.

With a 31-save performance, Dustin Tokarski earned his 207th career win in the AHL. Tokarski has also exceeded 10,000 career AHL saves. He is 4-3-2 in 10 career games against the Comets.

Fiddler-Schultz' goal was his first AHL goal in his second career game.
